

NATIONAL BIOSAFETY AUTHORITY

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

The National Biosafety Authority and her partners are delighted to host the 11th Biosafety Conference from 29th November to 2nd December 2022 at the Sawela Lodges, Naivasha, Kenya

The conference will provide an opportunity for policymakers from National and County Governments, academia, scientists and Regulators from around Kenya, Africa and the world to come together for networking, biotechnology and information exchange and innovative ideas, and to initiate new collaborative studies. It will also create an opportunity to bring together industry and innovators to show case their latest technologies, products, and services and to create new ideas and partnerships for various stakeholders.

The conference theme is “Harnessing Agricultural Biotechnology through Effective Biosafety Management Systems” and will focus on the following sub-themes;

- 1. Policy & Legal frameworks on Biosafety at Global and National Level
- 2. Status of Biotechnology Developments in Kenya and the region
- 3. Applications and Regulation of Emerging biotechnologies
- 4. Biotechnology and Biosafety Communication
- 5. GMO Ban in Kenya lifted, what are the implications?
- 6. Partnerships and linkages on Biosafety (National and County Governments)

This is to call for submission of abstracts using the Abstracts Form (Attached) for presentation during the conference under the above sub-thematic areas. The abstract should be approximately 300 words. Please indicate under which sub-theme you would like to make the presentation.

A Selection Committee will evaluate the submitted abstracts and all applicants will be informed of the decision.

Deadline for submission of Abstracts

15th November 2022